The courses aim at stimulating the participants in their offering several techniques of the domain of circus arts. Throughout the session, the pupils will have to make a personal choice and develop their sense of the work in community. A teamwork allowing all to build up to itself a rhythm which suits them throughout the learning (apprenticeship) that is the circus art.

It is above all the complicity of group that requires a good educational approach centred on a positive attitude on both sides aimed age groups. All these gathered (combined) points turn out essential as much in the success of the group as in the personal success of the participant during initiation into circus arts.
